COVID-19 General Information

The most recent information regarding the Corona Virus Pandemic provided by the CDC states:

The CDC is responding to a pandemic of respiratory disease spreading from person-to-person caused by a novel (new) coronavirus. The disease has been named "coronavirus disease 2019" (abbreviated "COVID-19"). This situation poses a serious public health risk. The federal government is working closely with state, local, tribal, and territorial partners, as well as public health partners, to respond to this situation. COVID-19 can cause mild to severe illness; most severe illness occurs in older adults and can result in death.

Symptoms of COVID-19: Symptoms may appear 2-14 days after exposure and have been described by the CDC as: Fever, Shortness of breath, Dry cough.

Emergency Medical Conditions: Severe symptoms described by the CDC as requiring immediate medical attention include: Trouble breathing, Persistent pain or pressure in the chest, New confusion or inability to arouse, Bluish lips or face, Severe muscle or body aches.

How the Virus Is Transmitted: The virus is thought to be spread primarily from person-to-person transmission inclusive of the following:

- People who are in proximity, generally less than 6 feet, with other people who are infected;
- Respiratory droplets produced when an infected person coughs or sneezes which can land in the mouths or noses of people who are nearby or possibly be inhaled into the lungs;
- Touching a surface or object that has COVID-19 on it and then touching one's own mouth, nose, or possibly the eyes.

People are most contagious when they are symptomatic, for example, experiencing fever, cough, and/or shortness of breath.

- Asymptomatic and mildly symptomatic individuals can and do spread COVID-19;
- A person may NOT have a fever and yet still be a carrier of the virus;
- Lack of an elevated temperature does not mean he/she has a clean bill of Health.

There have been numerous reports of inaccurate temperature readings from the forehead scan type thermometer. Temperature testing does NOT ensure there is no communicable disease in the workplace and does not prevent the spread of disease. Many cases are referred to as asymptomatic, which means that some individuals report no symptoms at all but can still be carriers of the virus and can infect others.
